Join us...

You are warmly invited to join Dr Thomas Fretwell and Pastor David Guzik for a thought-provoking weekend exploring the biblical, prophetic, and cultural significance of the Book of Revelation and its connection to Israel and antisemitism.

Together, they will expound the biblical text and examine key truths that will equip the church to understand the times in which we live. Participants will enjoy clear biblical teaching, gain insight into current events and benefit from sound practical application. Learn how to stand firm against the spirit of the age and engage confidently with some of today's most important questions.

The retreat is set in the heart of Sussex, where you can enjoy the beauty of Ashburnham Place, take a peaceful walk around the lakes, visit the prayer centre, or enjoy afternoon tea in the spectacular Orangery. It is the perfect setting to escape the noise of the world and focus your hearts and minds upon the Word of God.

"Blessed is he who reads and those who hear the words of the prophecy, and heed the things which are written in it; for the time is near."
Revelation 1:3

THE REVELATION

ST. JOHN THE DIVINE.

This last book of Holy Scripture was written by one whose name was John; by one whose authority was pre-eminent with the chief pastors of the seven churches in Proconsular Asia; and by one who was himself, at the time of writing it, an exile in Patmos, for fidelity to the truth of Christ. Thus much appears from the sacred text itself. And from the conclusive testimony of the early church, coming down to us in unbroken succession from those who were contemporary with the apostle, there can be no reasonable doubt that the inspired writer was the disciple whom Jesus loved—the Evangelist St. John. The difference in style betwixt the Gospel and the Apocalypse, on which those sceptical critics rely who question this as they question every other established fact of primitive tradition, is no greater than the difference of subjects demanded, and is balanced by certain marked correspondences.

The Revelation was written by St. John, as Irenæus informs us, "not long before his own day, at the close of the reign of Domitian." This emperor's bitter persecution of the church of Christ broke out A.D. 93 or 94 (Mosheim), and continued until his violent death in September, A.D. 96. During this time many Christians were slain by the sword (compare ch. ii. 13, where we read of Antipas, the faithful martyr of Pergamum), and vast multitudes visited with lighter punishments. St. John was banished to Patmos. And we may, with considerable confidence, accept the generally assigned year, A.D. 96, as the true date of the Apocalypse.

Friday

Welcome & Worship

Arrive and settle in at Ashburnham Place before gathering together for an evening meal. The weekend will begin with a warm welcome and our opening session in the beautiful surroundings of the Great Hall, setting the scene for a weekend as we worship, open the book of Revelation and fellowship.

Saturday

A Day of Teaching, Worship & Discussion

Join us for a full and enriching day as we explore God's Word together with David Guzik and Thomas Fretwell. Alongside times of worship and teaching, there will be opportunities for refreshments, a live podcast discussion with David and Tommy, and a dedicated time of prayer for Israel. The afternoon will continue with further teaching, worship and an opportunity to put your questions to our speakers during a special Q&A. As the day draws to a close, weekend guests will gather for an evening session, followed by a special after-hours gathering.

Sunday

Closing Sessions & Fellowship

Our final morning will begin with breakfast and a time of worship before returning to God's Word for our concluding sessions with David Guzik and Thomas Fretwell. Following refreshments, there will be a final opportunity to enjoy fellowship together, take in the beautiful surroundings or spend some time exploring the grounds. We will depart having shared a wonderful weekend of teaching and fellowship, growing in our understanding of the book of Revelation and encouraging one another in the faith.
